

Friday, 29th May 2020

Dear Year 4,

We hope you have had a wonderful half term week. The weather has certainly been kind to us!

For reading next week, we have put together a new padlet for you based on a story called "Roman rescue". On the padlet you will find a copy of the whole book but we have also recorded audio versions of the chapters for you and given some suggested activities and questions for each chapter. It would be really good if you could try and complete this independently but don't worry if you can't. As with everything, do as much or as little that suits you and your family. You could even just listen to the chapters to enjoy the story and find out more about Roman life, which turns out was quite disgusting in places! <https://padlet.com/year432/reading>

We have also been busy making a new science padlet for you on Sound. There are lots of things to try out and video clips to watch. We have put a linked writing task on there for you as well. As with the reading padlet, try to be as independent as possible (but you might need to ask your parents before you borrow some of the things you will need for your investigations, like rice, cling film and elastic bands!) Again, if the most you are able to fit in is just to watch the videos then that is fine.

<https://padlet.com/year432/SoundScience>

For maths this week we are continuing with addition. There are games on Education City and mymaths and there are still worksheets available to download from the school website.

Of course if you are still working on your "my choice" project, please continue with it. We have really enjoyed seeing how creative you have been and the range of different things you have chosen to find out about.

<https://padlet.com/year432/myChoiceproject>

As you know school will be opening more widely next week and so we will be in the building full time. This means we might not be as quick to reply to emails and maybe won't get onto the snail racing everyday but we want to reassure you that we are still here for you.

So as always, let us know if you need any help with anything and keep sharing the fantastic work you have been doing.

Bye for now,

Mrs Webber-Jones and Mrs Mistry

Year4@new-swann.leics.sch.uk